FRAUD LURKS IN BOXES OF CANDY

District Sealer of Weights and Measures Exposes Methods of New York Firm.

PAY FOR THE PASTEBOARD

The scheme of a big candy manufacturer to defraud the public out of about 10 cents on each pound of bonbons by means of deception with respect to the weight of the box has been brought to light by W. C. Haskell, District Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Mr. Haskell intends to push a vigorous warfare against the company and to warn the public against falling victims to the plan. It is doubtful whether the dealer can be prosecuted in the District, but the Sealer will make a thorough investigation of the matter.

The firm involved is a New York one, but the candies are sold throughout the country. The make has a fairly large sale in Washington. The boxes containing the sweets themselves weigh two ounces. In other words, for each pound of candy a person buys, one-eighth of the price is given for pastebord.

Box Is Labeled.

The dealer has labeled the box so as to come within the requirements of the law, in letter if not in spirit. Because of this fact, it is doubtful whether prosecution will be possible. The law requires that the weight of the contents of a package shall be printed on the outside. In the case of the candy boxes of the New York manufacturer, the following words are printed in small type on one end of the package, where practically no one would notice them:

To Make Investigation.

"A full investigation of this matter will be made," he said yesterday afternoon. "It is an imposition for a dealer to sell patrons two ounces of pastebord for candy without letting them know what is being done. Legislation for the District is now before Congress, which, if passed, would cover such cases as this one. The need of such a law is imperative. It is likely that the only step which can be taken by the office at this time is to warn the public against the fraud. This agency sells for about 30 cents a pound so that about 10 cents is paid by the customer for the box itself."

Commissioners Favor Bill of Senate to Sutherland of Utah.

The Commissioners yesterday sent a report to Congress favoring the bill introduced by Senator Sutherland of Utah permitting juries to return qualified verdicts in first degree murder cases. The District heads recommended, however, that a clause be inserted so as to provide for electrocution instead of hanging in the District. The bill as it now stands states that in cases where unequal verdicts of first degree murder are rendered the punishment shall be death by hanging.

To Succeed American.

Representative Kinkaid of New Jersey yesterday notified the State Department that he is informed that an American named Patrick Dunn is in prison under sentence of death, somewhere in Mexico. The Representative does not know exactly where Dunn is confined. The State Department has notified the American Embassy in Mexico City, asking that an endeavor be made to find Dunn, if possible.

GOVERNMENT SAVES IN BUYING COAL

Using Heat Units Plan of Bureau of Mines Is Equitable to All.

The methods employed by the government in the purchase of coal on the basis of the number of heat units it contains are explained in a bulletin just issued by the United States Bureau of Mines. This plan, which is an outgrowth of the conservation movement, has resulted, according to the bureau, in a saving of thousands of dollars to the government and also to municipalities and manufacturing establishments that have adopted it.

The Federal government purchases annually between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 worth of fuel. Last year more than $2,000,000 worth of this coal was bought on the specification basis which provides a premium for coal delivered containing more heat units than called for and a penalty for the coal that falls below the number stated in the contract.

Engineer George S. Pope, who has charge of the government's fuel inspection service, declares that the purchase of coal on a specification basis is an important step toward the conservation of the mineral resources of the nation, for it results in the increased use of the lower grades of coal. The poorer grades, he says, find a market by competing with the better grades, not as to the price per ton, but as to the cost of an equal number of heat units.
